

Pickling gel (red)

Description

This pickling paste is a ready-to-use gel for pickling stainless steel welds. This red pickling paste has a fast action, minimal odour and does not stain the stainless steel. It can be used to clean and stain all types of stainless steel and nickel alloys. The paste has a red colour, so that after treatment it is easy to see which part has already been treated.

The product has a very high effectiveness and pickling speed. Does not contain hydrochloric acid or chlorides.
